

NB_210_10_2, Removal and Archiving Selected Engineering DirectivesNational Bulletin: 201-10-2Date: October 8,
2009Subject: ENG - Removal and Archiving Selected Engineering
Directives

Purpose. To provide notification that selected engineering directives are being removed from the NRCS eDirectives System.

Expiration Date. December 30, 2009

Background. The Conservation Engineering Division's (CED) National Discipline Experts (NDEs) have reviewed existing engineering directives for use by the agency and field personnel. Directives include handbooks, technical releases, and technical notes.

The documents listed in the attachment are being removed from the eDirectives System because they are no longer needed, have been replaced by other documents, or are otherwise outdated.

Explanation. Documents in the attachment that are being removed from the eDirectives System will be archived. The NDE on the CED staff is responsible for archiving the hard copy plus all digital files and support documentation. Questions about the document, its contents, or accessing the archived document are to be directed to the CED and the NDE.

Please remove and destroy all hard copies of the documents listed below. Please also delete all electronic copies and their hyperlinks.

Contact. Please contact the Director, Conservation Engineering Division, by telephone at (202) 720-2520, or e-mail at noller.herbert@wdc.usda.gov, or the appropriate NDE should you have any questions.
